

At the risk of sounding painfully corny, the cliché “practice makes perfect” clearly doesn’t apply to Kyra Chaos. “No, I’m serious,” the 24-year-old beauty says. “I never practiced dancing in front of a mirror.” If that’s the case, one can probably attribute the Hampton, Virginia, beauty’s breakout role gyrating her 34B-27-45 goodness in Drake’s home-video-esque “Practice” clip to sheer talent.

Since leaving her Virginia digs and her own hair salon, Masusu Kinks, last year to broaden her horizons in the Big Apple, Kyra has bagged standout roles in 50 Cent’s “Off & On,” Busta Rhymes’ “Why Stop Now” featuring Chris Brown, and Fabolous’ “She Did It.” But it was a promotional video for Drizzy’s Club Paradise Tour that launched Ms. Chaos—who hopes to parlay her newfound status into a career as a radio personality—into our consciousness. “I didn’t have an idea it would be this big,” says Kyra, who claims her Twitter following (@KyraChaos) jumped from “2,500 to 30,000 in a matter of four days” after the video was released in February. “We shot it in a few minutes, in only two takes.”

Well, you know what they say about practice.

Was the “Practice” video shot in your bedroom? If so, you need to tidy that place up, love.

Everybody was telling me to clean my room. It was shot on a video set, not in my real room! But I’m glad everybody thinks that though, because that was the idea for it, to look like I’m a fan uploading a video.

You’ve gained an astounding number of fans since this video dropped. We suspect it has something to do with your private-dancer skills—word to Tina Turner.

Let me set the record straight: Kyra Chaos has never been a stripper or a dancer.

But the moves you displayed in front of that mirror put seasoned pole dancers to shame.

Kyra’s never been a stripper, though.

Loving the third-person reference. But Kyra moves like a stripper.

[Laughs] I guess.

At least we know you’re not shy.

I’m not shy, but I am shy...but I’m not shy.

What does that mean?

I don’t know. Once you’re around me for a while, you’ll know I’m not shy. I have to get to know you.

Here’s something we want to know: How did you come up with your handle?

My best friend, Amazin Amie, who’s also a model, named me. She said every time I go somewhere, niggas act stupid—they act crazy.

Do you believe that?

I know that. ♡
